insightful writers, inciting readers

Newest Issue of Stone Canoe Released, Number 7

Are you a fan of arts, literature, and social commentary? Then you're in luck because the Stone Canoe journal has released its newest issue, Number 7, filled with unique new content! This year's publication features over 60 artists contributing to a collection of poetry, fiction, drama, nonfiction, interviews, review, and visual arts. Syracuse University Press is proud to distribute such a refined journal showcasing the work of writers and visual artists with a connection to Upstate New York.

Since its conception, Stone Canoe has expanded its range to include articles on technology, film, video, and music, while maintaining its traditional focus on poetry, short fiction and nonfiction, drama and visual arts. The annual journal is published each spring by University College of Syracuse University and edited by Robert Colley. Stone Canoe, Number 6, won the Gold Medal in the Anthology category of the IPPY Awards last June. Visit the Stone Canoe website (<http://www.stonecanoejournal.org/>) for additional content, along with e-book versions of current and past issues.

Stone Canoe, Number 7 will be available for purchase at the Syracuse University Press website (<http://www.syracuseuniversitypress.syr.edu/subject/distributed-syracuse-university.html>). See the photographs below for a sneak peek inside the newest edition!
